LEPROSY SUNDAY is Today

Please help people like Habsou aged 57 years, from Niger—she was diagnosed with Leprosy as a young child. Since then her life has been one of shame and rejection by her parents and the uneducated community in which she lived. As a Teenager she received treatment but by that time Leprosy had savaged her body. She was forced to beg and marry a much older man who died whilst she was pregnant. Her daughter Mariama is considered dirty and tainted.

Can you believe this is a true story happening today? So much Leprosy education is needed. Please pray for the success of World Leprosy Day in order to help Habsou and similar families.
